International Travel Waiver

We know that traveling internationally with a pet can be a confusing and stressful time for everyone involved. That is why the USDA Accredited doctors and staff at West Alabama Animal Clinic work hard to provide outstanding services for you and your pet during this transition.

The rules of international travel differ from country to country and sometimes change throughout the year. We ask that you be patient through the process as we assure you we are doing everything in our power to help get your pet to their final destination.

Although we are diligent about filling out the paperwork properly and filing forms in a timely manner, some requests are out of our control and therefore West Alabama Animal Clinic cannot guarantee the success of your pet's international transportation. If you would be more comfortable using an international transport service, we are glad to provide you with a list of trusted options.

Thank you for your understanding and patience.

I have read and understand the above, accept these risks, and acknowledge that West Alabama Animal Clinic cannot accept any financial responsibility for paying for or reimbursing me for any fees incurred. In the absence of negligence, I agree to not hold this veterinary practice liable in the event my pet's international travel is denied or restricted.
